It is Day two in our week of recognizing Teen Dating Violence Awareness and Prevention month. It's very important to be on the lookout for signs of abuse in our own relationships, and to watch for signs of it in others as well. If you notice things like the following--

- extreme jealousy
- insulting, demeaning, shaming language
- pressuring someone to use drugs or alcohol
- intimidating someone with threats or weapons
- preventing interactions with others
- pressuring sex or sexual acts
- insulting family members

--make sure to address those issues and talk to somebody about how you can get help for yourself or a friend. Remember to stop by our table this week as we raise money for the Family Center. And anyone who participates in wearing something orange on Friday can stop at our table at lunch and get one free entry for a tie blanket.
