WELCOME TO LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL

Lincoln High School makes it easy to explore your interests and discover new ones with more than 50 student clubs and organizations, opportunities in the visual arts, music, drama and 21 interscholastic sports. And this doesn't include all the amazing events these co-curricular organizations plan for the entire student body to be involved with – like my favorite, our HOCO Bon Fire! Joining a student organization is a great way to make friends and get connected to life at Lincoln. How will you get involved? Whether you're interested in student council, acting, singing, a world language, swimming, flossing your teeth (yes, really!) or outdoor activities and more, we've got a place for you.

Many of the memories you make at Lincoln High School may likely be because of your involvement in co-curricular activities.

I pledge this to you...you won't regret getting involved at Lincoln High School!

Ellie Heiman, Student Council President 2018-19

Here's what we know: Tobacco is still killing way too many of us. But when people understand the damage tobacco products can do—to their lives, their bodies, and to all the friends, family and people around them? They make better choices. And that's our mission. The advisor is Mr. Bondioli.

Floss Club

The Floss Club is essentially a nonsense time for those who practice (or wish to practice) oral hygiene. We meet on Tuesdays in the winter for 10 minutes, beginning at exactly 2:55 p.m. Topics have included "Tooth Fairy: Myth or Magic?", alternative flossing methods, and attending. After all, "You're at a loss, unless you floss." Mr. Gawlitta is the advisor of this fun, unique club that is now ten time state champions (granted we are the only Floss Club anywhere that we are aware of.)

Forensics

The forensics program provides you with the opportunity to develop and improve your public speaking skills. This is an opportunity to become a skillful public speaker. In addition, the individual who is able to communicate well often has a distinct advantage over the less well-trained speaker in many areas of society. Participation in forensics allows students to increase confidence in the ability to express your ideas clearly to people and the experience may be a part of your future resume and school records. Future employers will be impressed with your solid speaking ability and the commitment to an extracurricular activity which builds real-life skills. There are a total of fifteen categories from which to choose. You may choose the type of speaking that suits you best. There are four speaking contests: an invitational, sub-district, district, and lastly, the state contest in Madison. Speakers competing at the district and state levels will be awarded medals. Practice revolves around your schedules and is flexible. You may find more information about this activity by contacting Mrs. Tritz or Mrs. Wills-Phillips.

LHS Theatre Department

Our high school is unique in that we produce three theatre productions during the school year. The fall show alternates between an improvisation show, Student Showcase (Advanced Drama students write the plays) or a full length mystery. The winter show alternates between a holiday show or a full length play. The spring musical is a chance for many students to get involved in the pit, cast, crew or tech. Regardless; all three productions are run by students with the guidance of the directors. Our department is proud of the fact that we have advanced to State in the State Theatre Festival many times. Anyone may audition to be in the cast or sign up to participate for crew. Typically, our techs are run by students who have taken the Theatre Technology class. Each year, a number of students are selected to join the International Thespian Society. It is an honors program for theatre students that are recognized throughout the nation and overseas. Students who would like to take part in this honors society keep track of their hours in two or more different theatrical categories throughout their co-curricular career of LHS Theatre Department's plays and musicals and also in any drama classes. It is a prestigious group that is highlighted in every program and can be a member for life. For further questions, please contact Ms. Danke.

Letterwinners

If you've earned your letter - you can go one step further! Join the Letterwinners Club! The only qualification is that you must have earned your letter. The Letterwinners Club sells concessions at our home winter sporting events to raise money for various athletic and school needs. The club is fun, and will help you meet people with some of the same interests as you. It teaches you responsibility and how to make popcorn! Anyone interested can contact the Athletic Director, John Frizzell.

Math League

The Math League is composed of students who are interested in mathematical competitions. There are three meets in Stevens Point, but in order for students to go, they must qualify on pre-tests that LHS math teachers give. Those who score the highest on these pre-tests will get to take part in the regional tests at UWSP. Anyone who participated in at least one of the three meets will receive an award. This club gives students who like math a chance to meet others with the same interests. If you are interested, be sure to talk to your math teacher or Mr. Duerr.

Mock Trial

Mock Trial is a program that allows students to play the role of an attorney or witness in a hypothetical case. Typically Lincoln has two teams that compete at the regional tournament here at the Wood County Courthouse. Teams can be as small as 6 people or as large as 12 people. Each team must be prepared to present both the plaintiff and defense perspective of the case. Teams will also compete against other mock trial teams in the region. This program gives students a great experience of the law, especially the courtroom. In addition to learning about the law, students will also improve their critical thinking and speaking skills. The season usually starts in November and runs through the second week in February and practices will run once or twice per week. Please see Mr. Schmitt.

Contact any Technology Education teacher to find out more about SkillsUSA and how to join this distinguished club or see Mr. Klonowski or Mr. Bores for more information.

Stage Tech Academy

Have you ever been to an event and noticed people behind an audio mixing console or lighting control board? You know, those things with all the buttons and flashy lights? Have you ever noticed people wearing all black running around backstage? Welcome to Stage Tech Academy. Not everyone wants to be in the limelight, and that's ok! There is a huge need for people who work "behind the scenes." Believe it or not, it is often the people you don't see who are responsible for a successful show. In this club, we work as a team to make every event a success. If you have an interest in music, theater, sound, lights, video, or event production, this is a club for you! The club will meet as needed to perform a variety of duties associated with the events held at the Performing Arts Center and Lincoln High School. There is something for everyone, so give it a try and find your niche! See Mr. Brittnacher for more information.

Student Council

Student Council is the governing body of the students at LHS. Members are elected to represent the student body, and all are encouraged to run. Each class has a president and up to ten representatives. If you enjoy attending school events, taking pictures, and then seeing those photos appear in a well-designed page layout, then this is the perfect opportunity for you! Students in this organization also interview, write stories, and create pages. Staff members demonstrate accuracy, responsibility, and the ability to meet deadlines. Besides gaining experience, students collaborate with creative people, have fun, and feel a sense of accomplishment when they see the yearbook in print. If interested, contact Mrs. Schmitt.

Athletic Department

The Lincoln High School athletic program is an important part of the total extra-curricular program. It provides students with an opportunity to develop physical skills and be a part of a team effort. History tells us that students who participate in athletic activities are better able to transfer their experience to other activities throughout their lives. Participation in these programs provides experiences that are not available in the regular school curriculum. Everyone is encouraged to participate in this component of the "fourth curriculum," (reading, writing, and computation are the other three). "Raider Pride" in the athletic program is for EVERYONE!

The athletic program, as well as many other school co-curricular organizations, is governed by the Wisconsin Public School's "District Co-Curricular Code of Conduct." Academic eligibility, regulations related to the use of alcohol and drugs, conduct expectations, in addition to the state-wide regulations applicable to athletics, are a part of this code. Participating students and their parents are expected to carefully review and adhere to the contents of the code. Questions regarding the Activities Code can be made to the Athletic Director, or members of the administrative team, at any time.

As you can tell by the previous listing of clubs and activities, a healthy and challenging series of opportunities are available to all students. Involvement in activities provides an opportunity for students to learn the value of hard work, as well as the benefit of self-discipline.

Virtually every examination of student success tells us that an active and involved student is more successful during his/her high school years, as well as during the rest of their lives. All students are encouraged to get involved with these activities.

Many of the activities in the previous listing are governed by the Wisconsin Rapids Public School's "Co-Curricular Code of Conduct." Expectations for student conduct, minimum academic standing required for participation, and guidelines for student behavior are a part of the code. Participating students and their parents are expected to review and adhere to the code throughout the school year. Questions regarding the code can be addressed to the office at any time.
